Map showing the three mystery locations represented by the air temperature data in the graphs at the top of the page.
Mystery Locations

Location A is ____________________________________________

What evidence did you use to solve the mystery of location A?

________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________

Location B is ____________________________________________

What evidence did you use to solve the mystery of location B?

________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________

Location C is ____________________________________________

What evidence did you use to solve the mystery of location C?

________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________